The Royal Mysuru

Geographical Indication tags

Many of us are aware about the many things about our beloved city Mysuru. And we RPS community, being a part of it is indeed a proud feeling .

Here we will try to know one aspect about Mysuru .i.e. the Identity of Mysuru in eyes of the world. Geographical indications are a good measure of how the world at large know us as.

Our city is fast becoming a global brand. One reason of the popularity and the world interest in Mysuru would be the uniqueness and speciality of things in and around Mysuru. If Karnataka is the Crown of India in Geographical Indications, Mysuru city is the biggest jewel in the crown of Karnataka.

What is Geographical Indication (GI) ?

The word GI is an indication of the geographical location which indicates the product associated with a certain area or region. Actually, it has become a trademark of that region and the place becomes famous by the name of that product. It is used for agricultural, natural and manufactured goods having a special quality and established a reputation. They not only provide a way for business to leverage the value of their geographically unique products, but also inform and attract consumers.

Darjeeling tea became the first GI tagged product in India, in 2004-05, since then by May 2017, 295 products had been added to the list. The Geographical Indication is the sign used on the products that have the regional origin and which can be depicted from its label

Karnataka tops with 38 GI products, followed by Maharashtra which has 32 GI products. Tamil Nadu comes third with 25 GI products.

Below are the GI products of Karnataka. Can you count how many are associated with the Mysuru region ? Lets' see who gives the correct number.

Interesting Trivia

Aunts

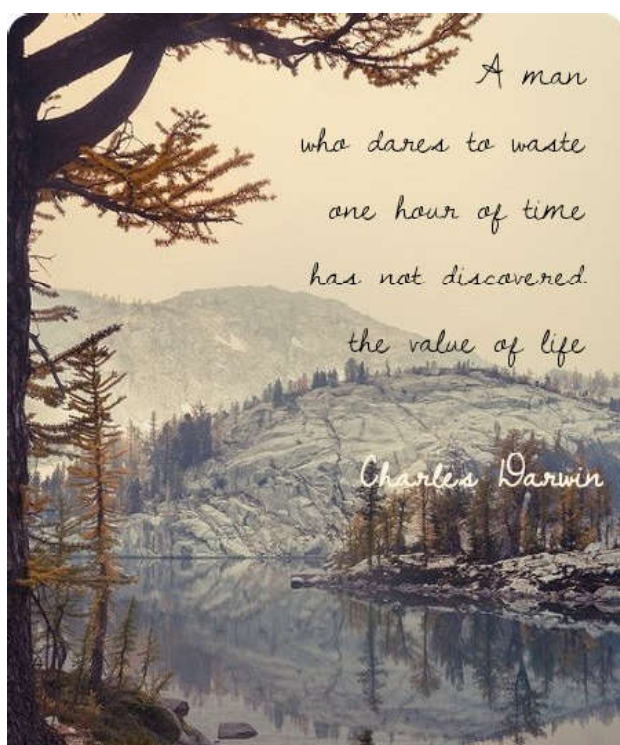

"I had two old aunts with wrinkled faces, one of them having two teeth protruding like the tusks of an elephant which she buried in my cheek every time she kissed me. Nothing would scare me more than the prospect of being hugged by these as affectionate as unattractive relatives.

It happened that while being carried in my mother's arms they asked me who was the prettier of the two. After examining their faces intently, I answered thoughtfully, pointing to one of them, "This here is not as ugly as the other."

The Value of Time

One person worked long and hard for making a great career. One day he decided to rest from the work and to live in luxury for his pleasure, which he could afford because of his wealth. Just when he made this decision, an angel of death came to him.

Being a very wealthy person, he decided to buy some more time from the angel of death at any cost. He bargained for a long time but the angel was unmoved.

Desperate, the rich man made the last proposal to the angel:

– Give me just one hour of my life, so that I could admire the beauty of this earth for the last time and spend some time with my family and friends whom I haven't seen for a long time, and I will give you all of my wealth.

But the angel refused again.

Finally, the man asked if the angel could give him at least one minute so that he could write a goodbye note. His wish was granted and he wrote a note:

"Spend your time, which was given to you, in the right way. I couldn't buy even an hour of life with all of my wealth. Listen to your heart and check if the things surrounding you have a true value. Cherish every minute of your life."
